

Al Hassan Group receives encouraging response at Oman's biggest job fairs

MUSCAT: Al Hassan Group participated in three leading career fairs of Oman that were held recently - Sultan Qaboos Career & Training Opportunities Fair 2014, Caledonian College and Waljat College.

A large number of students and young job-seekers visited the Al Hassan pavilion and acquainted themselves with the employment and training opportunities offered by the company.

"Al Hassan has always been a part of prestigious career fairs in Oman as we strongly believe that these are ideal platforms to attract young and enthusiastic Omani talent. At Al Hassan we always strive to provide a career to the aspirants and not just a job, therefore our focus is on training and personal development that leads to career enhancement. With this objective we met the job seekers at our stall and acquainted them with our organisation and thereafter explore a rewarding career opportunity with us," said Shahzad Sadan, head - Organisational Development. "During our participation, we have announced several vacancies and how someone can apply for these positions through the company's website. As a Omani company, we are not only focused but committed to the development of the national work force, capabilities and nurture competencies and that motivates us to participate in career fairs every year.
